What is a reference check?

Ramya Sehmi - 2026-11-11 - Comments (0) - Encyclopedia of screening terms

A reference check is a communications with a candidate's previous employer to confirm their employment details and gather insight into their performance, conduct and reason for leaving. References can be factual (dates only) or qualitative (performance feedback).