What is the statutory excuse?

Ramya Sehmi - 2026-05-06 - Comments (0) - Encyclopedia of screening terms

The statutory excuse is the legal defence an employer has against a civil penalty if they've carried out a compliant Right to Work check. It protects the employer even if the employee is later found to be working illegally provided the check was done correctly.